CLAN/FAMILY NAMES

Although many lists exist with other names given, a family name must be recognized by a MacKinnon Chief to be considered a Sept of the Clan. In 1958 Commander Arthur Avalon MacKinnon of MacKinnon, then Chief of Clan MacKinnon, recognized the following names as Septs of Clan MacKinnon: Love, MacKinney, MacKinning, MacKinven, MacMorran

The only other credible list of families associated with Clan MacKinnon is that given by George Way of Plean and Romilly Squire in the Scottish Clan and Family Encyclopedia. However, this list is unsubstantiated because we have not been able to determine if it was ever approved by a MacKinnon Chief. In addition to the names you see above, the following names were added on the George Way list: Morren, Sherry

Please keep in mind that anyone and everyone is welcome to join Clan MacKinnon Society no matter your family name or lineage. We welcome all!

TOO MUCH IRON

Canadian Hemochromatosis
S O C I E T Y

Hereditary hemochromatosis is a genetic, metabolic disorder that leads the body to absorb and retain too much dietary iron, resulting in iron overload. It is a primary disorder of iron metabolism that can affect many organ systems including the liver, pancreas, heart, endocrine glands and joints. It is potentially fatal, but easily treated if diagnosed early, before the excess iron causes irreversible damage. Persons of the Northern European descent are at high risk of hemochromatosis..

The Devil's Brigade

From Scotland to Japan, Italy to Cuba, Spain to Guam to the Middle East, and across North America this electrifying group is embracing Celtic, rock, world music, and more with daring, skill, and a wee bit o' cheek

The DEVIL'S BRIGADE, formally known as the First Special Service Force, was a highly decorated Canadian/American commando unit in WWII. Their legendary heroism struck fear into the hearts of Nazis and their legacy can be traced directly to the Canadian Special Operations Regiment and Green Berets. The American Rogues have long supported Veterans and by becoming THE DEVIL'S BRIGADE in 2023 we honour those who serve and also reflect our own Canadian/American identity. We are not in league with Satan!

DOTSCOT REGISTRY

DotScot Registry is the not-for-profit company that exists to provide Scottish businesses, individuals and organisations a prominent online identity through the .scot domain name.

.scot is a top-level domain for Scotland and Scottish culture that became available to the public during September 2014. It gives users the opportunity to clearly identify themselves as Scottish, offering the ultimate branding tool for businesses and acts as a clear cultural identifier for people in Scotland and in the wider Scots diaspora.

As well as being used to promote Scottish art, culture, business and education, it is also used by individuals who want to highlight their Scottish connections or simply like having ‘.scot’ as part of their internet identity. Why wouldn’t they, when Scotland’s brand is recognised around the world?
